CLARKE ENERGY WINS TOP SAFETY AWARD (AGAIN)

Once again the British Safety Council - National Safety Awards Ceremony in London, has rewarded the combined efforts of all staff, at all levels, for the second year in succession.

The award is presented to companies who have a proven record of below average realisation of accident and incidents as well an established and progressive safety management system, the qualifications of the companies appointed Safety Manager are also taken into account.

John Grimshaw, Clarke Energy's Health and Safety Manager said 'For the second year running Clarke Energy has proved it's commitment, across the whole range of it's activities, by the continual development of Safety Management systems and the nurturing of a safety culture throughout'.

Note:-

Clarke Energy Limited is a leading worldwide Energy Systems Company offering a wide range of green power generation solutions with offices in Australia, France, India, Nigeria, New Zealand and UK. Clarke Energy employs over 150 people worldwide and operates as part of the Clarke Group.
